

During October, the Steve Biko Centre for Bioethics and the Wits Centre for Ethics, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, will co-host a series of one-hour webinars titled:

Understanding COVID-19 Vaccine Hesitancy and our Ethical Obligations

One ethics CPD point can be earned for each webinar attended.

You need to register for each webinar individually by clicking on the relevant link.

| Date in October | Time | Keynote Speakers | Webinar Title | |
|-----------------|-------|---|---|-------------------------------|
| Wednesday 20 | 17h00 | Prof. Keymanthri Moodley Director: Centre for Medical Ethics and Law, Stellenbosch University | The case for mandatory vaccines | REGISTER HERE |
| Friday 22 | 17h00 | Dr Cornelius Ewuoso IFGeneRA, University of Cape Town Prof. Thaddeus Metz Philosophy Department, University of Pretoria | Ubuntu and the “duty” to be vaccinated | REGISTER HERE |
| Wednesday 27 | 17h00 | Dr Bonginkosi Shozi School of Law, University of KwaZulu Natal Prof. Donrich Thaldar School of Law, University of KwaZulu Natal | The legal case against mandatory vaccines in South Africa | REGISTER HERE |
| Friday 29 | 17h00 | Prof. Steven Taylor Department of Psychiatry, University of British Columbia, Canadian federal government’s expert advisory panel on COVID-19 | Immunisation Stress-Related Reactions: Implications for Vaccination Hesitancy | REGISTER HERE |

Enquiries: e-mail Samkelo.Nsibande@wits.ac.za